Living well with
Chronic Kidney Disease

Working with your healthcare team

The importance of joined up care

Managing CKD works best when you and your healthcare team work together. GPs, nurses, pharmacists and specialists all play a role.

Your part in the team

Share how you feel, bring your medication list to appointments, and ask questions. Early discussions help prevent problems.

Simple steps you can take

- Keep records of test results and medicines
- Report side effects early
- Attend scheduled reviews
- Take part in shared decision making
